

SUBSCRIPTION $1.50 A YEAR

A Good Scheme

A Woman's Perception Was Required to Defeat It

By EDWARD C. LONG

"There are a number of problems before the counterfeiter," said my friend Roberts, the detective, "but the most important of all is distributing the bills after they are made. There's more room for ingenuity in this part of the work than any other, and more confidence is trusted from this part of the work than any other. All sorts of devices are resorted to to get the stuff in circulation. Persons are roped in by being offered an enormous price for something they own, and when they get their pay that the money they have received is counterfeit. In such cases the transaction is usually large, and when it is completed the real bills disappear without leaving any trace of methods whereby the bills are put into circulation in a small way and continuously a case that falls into the hands of a few years ago is about the best example I ever met with."

I was sent to a banker who had reported some five dollar counterfeit bills on his bank's circulation. Every now and again a lot of these bills would appear, and he would find while another lot would find their way into the hands principally of drunks. The only clerk that the body had was this: An old man one day went into a drug store and, after whose bills were counterfeited received an anonymous note written in a feminine hand that if he would send such a street and number he might be afforded a clue to the counterfeiter. The note was turned over to me, and I applied it to the person. I was received by a young woman, who told me that a man in a house directly opposite to the one in which she lived had excited her suspicions. But she could give no reason for the thought that he appeared to have no business.

"If I were to let it be known that I was a detective working up a case, I would get a multitude of clues every day, and each clue would be more ridiculous than the last. I am therefore, in this case the girl seemed to be so positive that there was something wrong about the man opposite that I concluded to investigate. The best way to do this was to transfer my quarters to the house above him—it was a rented house and set up a watch. One of the bills was vacant, and I spent a front room in it."

"I had observed the man opposite but a few times before I could understand the girl's suspicions. But I could give no more reason for mine than she could for hers. She was quite attractive, and I made the case a pretext to call upon her often. I talked to her about it, and she did not confess to me that I suspected her of anything. I was called by a detective, and I encouraged her to help me. She said that about once in two or three weeks an opposite mailed for as though he was intending to accomplish something. She had noticed him at the counterfeiter's when he went out to his house late at night and though time hung heavily on his hands, he never let me know the next time he saw him go out, and I was forced to wait for him to come in to time to enable me to follow him."

One long after she this knocked at my door and told me my quarry had just gone out, appearing to have a purpose. I can remember and caught sight of him turning a corner. He soon entered a stationery store, where he bought some envelopes. He followed him into the store, for I knew that if he was a criminal he would be interested in the stationery store. My purpose was to note the store he went into and if he passed the counterfeiter's. If he did his game was up, for I could arrest him where he lodged. He visited various stores, buying something in each, then, instead of going to his lodging, entered a house where several families were quartered. I concluded to wait for him to come out, but he never did come out—that is, so far as I could see. While I was waiting for him several persons entered and came out of the house, and one time I telephoned for a person to remove me and visited the store where the man had made purchases. In every store he had passed a counterfeit bill.

"I resumed my watch on his lodgings, but although I continued it for weeks, I never saw the fellow again."

"By this time the young lady had given me the clue had become my best friend. I was interested in the case, and she sympathized with me in my defeat. I was anxious to do something to help me. I couldn't afford to spend any more time watching the house where the counterfeiter lived, and I learned that he had simply lodged there, and the occupants knew nothing about him. The young woman volunteered that if she saw him there again she would attempt to shadow him and if possible communicate with me while she was doing so. It was evident that he was one of several persons who had been in the counterfeit money, but I had no clue to his whereabouts and was therefore on my guard before."

"The fellow went back just once to the house in which he had lodged to see some clothes in the trunk, and the young woman happened to see him. She followed him and caught him on one of his visits to the trunk, and he appeared blissful. After visiting several stores he went to a house where he disappeared as before. His shadower waited from 10 o'clock in the morning till 10 o'clock in the afternoon for him to come out. Then a woman entered, carrying a parcel and a relic. The shadower, who had been waiting for the man opposite to come, and had no sooner seen the woman pass than she recognized in the peculiar grin which she was looking for. She followed, looking about her for a policeman, but these gentlemen have a contentment of not appearing when they are wanted, and the party turned into a building before she could get a clue."

"There was a store opposite and, luckily, a telephone in the store. The young woman called the police and explained why she wanted them. They came in sufficient numbers to surround the house, then went upstairs to the top story, where they found not only the man in question, but also the whole gang of counterfeiters and their tools. In the relic was considerable money, and had brought for division among them."

"He had been the only one engaged in making the counterfeit money, and it was his work he would enter a house and come out as some one else. Had he been for the former intention of my volunteer assistant and her been persistent in recognizing the girl he had here continued his work, so he knows how long."

"I was so pleased with the young woman's detective instincts that I invited her to go into partnership with me. We worked so successfully together that I finally decided to make a life arrangement of it."

"In all my experience I have never met with a better detective for counterfeiter tracks after passing counterfeit money than the one I have described."

CHILDISH COSTUME.

Simplicity, Yet Richness, In This Fur Coat.

THE DIFFERENCE.

What He Said Before Marriage and Afterward.

He had called her the light of his life. A few months ago he had sworn that he couldn't live without her. He needed her to ride over his house and guide his destinies.

"Daring," he said enthusiastically, "I will go to the end of the earth for you. What you say, that will I do; what you do, that will I please. Hand in hand we shall wander down the lanes of time smiling and happy."

And the other night, in the presence of witnesses, he said: "Well, for goodness sake, aren't you going to love me anything? Are you going to be a dud all your life? How many times have I told you not to do this thing that? Use your brains; think of what you're doing. You know better than that, and if you don't you ought to. If a nine-year-old child acted that way I'd spank him. You make me tired, good and tired, you do. And all because she had trumped his ace and they needed an extra trick."

Dangerous Talk.

"Mother, I wish you wouldn't mention dishwashing when George is calling on me."

"Why not, indeed?"

"I don't like it. It sounds common."

"Common, eh? We have to eat, don't we?"

"Of course."

"And George knows we eat and use dishes?"

"That's very true."

"And George also knows that dishes have to be washed, therefore he calls on me."

"But, mother—"

"If you keep on talking about it George may discover that you make dishes wipe them and he may think the same thing is coming to him if he should propose to me"—Pun Magazine.

"Seems to me I've heard that before."

"Opportunity knocks at every one's door, but only once," continued the clerk.

"That's where you're mistaken, young fellow," snapped the woman as she reached behind her. "Opportunity has knocked at my door eight times this week so far. Just in case I should be a little out of breath."

"The frames of old umbrellas or parasols can be used very artistically for creepers in a garden. Just open them, and you will have a number of hands to a point and thrust them open into the ground."

Out at the Plate.

A young lookout, on a visit to New York, thought it imperative that he should put up at a fashionable hotel. Of course he couldn't afford it, and he had to economize in some way.

He happened on one occasion to be taking his evening meal on a bench in the park when a young man and his sister, friends of his, passed in a friendly way.

The youth bent his head over his sandwich, but the New Yorker saw him and said: "Hello, George! Dining again, you say?"—St. Paul Dispatch.

Suspicious.

"John, do you love me?"

"Do you adore me?"

"I adore you."

"Will you marry me?"

"Yes—look here, dear, what have you been and gone and ordered sent home?"—San Francisco Examiner.

Wise Man.

Mrs. Exotic, D.D., doctor, husband is in an awful way. Just as he goes to sign my checks he faints away."

Doctor: "What can I do?"

Mrs. Exotic: "Get him so that he won't faint till after he signs them."—San Francisco Examiner.

The Test.

PROCK GREEN

PROCK GREEN

PROCK GREEN

PROCK GREEN

PROCK GREEN

PROCK GREEN

PROCK GREEN

PROCK GREEN

PROCK GREEN

PROCK GREEN

PROCK GREEN

PROCK GREEN

PROCK GREEN

PROCK GREEN

PROCK GREEN

PROCK GREEN

PROCK GREEN

PROCK GREEN

BRIBERY.

He held her fairly hand. She drew him away. I was called out by her. Because she let it stay.

My own dear husband. She didn't mind a bit. I needed her to ride over his house and guide his destinies.

"Daring," he said enthusiastically, "I will go to the end of the earth for you. What you say, that will I do; what you do, that will I please. Hand in hand we shall wander down the lanes of time smiling and happy."

And the other night, in the presence of witnesses, he said: "Well, for goodness sake, aren't you going to love me anything? Are you going to be a dud all your life? How many times have I told you not to do this thing that? Use your brains; think of what you're doing. You know better than that, and if you don't you ought to. If a nine-year-old child acted that way I'd spank him. You make me tired, good and tired, you do. And all because she had trumped his ace and they needed an extra trick."

County Clerk. PLEASE VOTE FOR MART LIND.

Fiction.

Mrs. Regattar—Did your husband ever try his hand at stained glass?

Mrs. Percollum—Did he? For at least five years he's been trying to make me believe he likes my cooking.

—Chicago Tribune.

Home of Breakfast Foods.

Professor Zephaniah Hopper, head of the high school, where he has taught forty years.

"I've advised to the young in their sex so wild oats. Wild oats in that warm an old age and decrepitude."

"And yet the way some people live you'd think that wild oats were as essential a part of youth as domesticated animals are an essential part of Scotland."

"A friend of mine in Scotland said to a boy:—"

"What do you have for breakfast hereabouts?"

"Porridge."

"And for dinner?"

"Porridge."

"And for supper?"

"Porridge."

"Goodness," said my friend, "porridge every day for every meal! Is it never have anything else?"

"What else would you have? said the boy. Detroit Free Press.

A False Alarm.

The telephone a worried note addressed the proprietor of a small hardware store in a west Kentucky town.

"Say," the speaker began, "you see your place today is the home of one of the latest alarm clocks, and I can get for me to go off at a clock in the morning."

"Yes," said the hardware man. "I remember."

"Well," went on the other, "I've found out that I don't have to get up at a clock in the morning."

"Glad to hear it," said the hardware man. "But what do you want me to do about it?"

"I want you," said the customer, "to tell me how to unarm this clock."—Saturday Evening Post.

Her Fighting Clothes.

The customer—Hearst. What is that terrible racket going on in the back part of the store?

Floorwalker—You mean the loud talking? That's the mistiest part. Something went wrong early this morning and she's firing one of her answers to a perplexing question very get that disagreeable knock it all in common to young America.

Never try to force your children's confidence. If you have tried to be sure that your children are in the confidence will be given unsolicited. Confidences that are asked or assumed are always given grudgingly and with a sense of resentment when they are not returned.

William's Big Sister—Will, what do you mean by climbing upon Mr. Rap's chair? Or your chair, you say?

William—I'm looking for his soft spot. You said he had one.—National Monthly.

Abie Work.

Flikins—Thought you intended to sell your suburban home?

Flikins—Yes. Once done at once. William—I'm looking for his soft spot. You said he had one.—National Monthly.

Buy Boy.

"You get your start in politics by turning night owl!" "Yes," replied Senator Burleigh. "It was one of the best boys you ever saw in a torch-light procession."—Washington Star.

Imaginative.

"Remember must have unusual powers of imagination!" "Yes," replied Senator Burleigh. "It was one of the best boys you ever saw in a torch-light procession."—Washington Star.

Dark.

Shipper—Did you see that light? Looker—No! It's so dark I can't see a thing.—Harvard Lampoon.

Points for Mothers

Timely Hints on Care of Baby.

What mother can not long be ignorant of the advantages possible for normal development? Yet there are many having had no special training for motherhood, who neglect motherly bent adapted for a child's welfare.

Take the question of pure air in the room. Many a mother thoughtlessly allows her baby to stay in a heated room in which there are several occupants. With so many people breathing this same atmosphere it soon has its oxygen exhausted, and it is not an uncommon thing to see the baby raw and become fretful. Those who understand this cause either immediately change the air in the room or take the little one into another room that has been specially aired, that he may receive his own share of fresh air. For the same reason it is imperative for growth to avoid leaving the baby in rooms where household duties are being performed, as the odors from cooking, the dust from sweeping, the steam from washing all rob the air of the freshness so beneficial to the health of every child. Baby must especially should see the advantage of training a baby to stay in one place, and that place should be made clean and well-ventilated. Frequent trips to the bathroom, the baby should be taken to change positions and to look after his comfort.

It is not universally recognized that the constant supply of pure air for the baby is one of the most important factors in his health. Fresh, pure air is required to renew and purify his blood, and the beneficial effects of this are good temper, red cheeks and an improved appetite.

Just what it is safe to begin taking a baby out of doors in winter is a question often asked by the young mother. It is wise to wait until the baby is three months old and then only on pleasant days. He should be kept in the sunshine out of the wind, with his eyes from the sunlight. Days when it is very cold or when the winds are sharp should be avoided, and he should be in an open air sleeping room or outdoors. When babies are out of doors they should be constantly watched to see that they are not suffering from cold. It is important to remember that a baby should be maintained in a healthy condition, and that it is directly attributable to overworked and fatigued air, so that riding in electric street cars in winter or the carrying of children into department stores is done with attendant risks.

Six Dots For Mothers.

Haven't you seen mothers, not only the young inexperienced mother, but women of mature years who are old enough to know better, constantly do things to their children that they would not want to do to their own?

They would be constantly watching to see that they are not suffering from cold. It is important to remember that a baby should be maintained in a healthy condition, and that it is directly attributable to overworked and fatigued air, so that riding in electric street cars in winter or the carrying of children into department stores is done with attendant risks.

Never try to force your children's confidence. If you have tried to be sure that your children are in the confidence will be given unsolicited. Confidences that are asked or assumed are always given grudgingly and with a sense of resentment when they are not returned.

William's Big Sister—Will, what do you mean by climbing upon Mr. Rap's chair? Or your chair, you say?

William—I'm looking for his soft spot. You said he had one.—National Monthly.

Abie Work.

Flikins—Thought you intended to sell your suburban home?

Flikins—Yes. Once done at once. William—I'm looking for his soft spot. You said he had one.—National Monthly.

Buy Boy.

"You get your start in politics by turning night owl!" "Yes," replied Senator Burleigh. "It was one of the best boys you ever saw in a torch-light procession."—Washington Star.

Imaginative.

"Remember must have unusual powers of imagination!" "Yes," replied Senator Burleigh. "It was one of the best boys you ever saw in a torch-light procession."—Washington Star.

Dark.

Shipper—Did you see that light? Looker—No! It's so dark I can't see a thing.—Harvard Lampoon.

Imaginative.

"Remember must have unusual powers of imagination!" "Yes," replied Senator Burleigh. "It was one of the best boys you ever saw in a torch-light procession."—Washington Star.

Dark.

Shipper—Did you see that light? Looker—No! It's so dark I can't see a thing.—Harvard Lampoon.

Imaginative.

"Remember must have unusual powers of imagination!" "Yes," replied Senator Burleigh. "It was one of the best boys you ever saw in a torch-light procession."—Washington Star.

Dark.

Shipper—Did you see that light? Looker—No! It's so dark I can't see a thing.—Harvard Lampoon.

Imaginative.

"Remember must have unusual powers of imagination!" "Yes," replied Senator Burleigh. "It was one of the best boys you ever saw in a torch-light procession."—Washington Star.

Dark.

Shipper—Did you see that light? Looker—No! It's so dark I can't see a thing.—Harvard Lampoon.

Imaginative.

"Remember must have unusual powers of imagination!" "Yes," replied Senator Burleigh. "It was one of the best boys you ever saw in a torch-light procession."—Washington Star.

Dark.

Shipper—Did you see that light? Looker—No! It's so dark I can't see a thing.—Harvard Lampoon.

Imaginative.

"Remember must have unusual powers of imagination!" "Yes," replied Senator Burleigh. "It was one of the best boys you ever saw in a torch-light procession."—Washington Star.

Dark.

Shipper—Did you see that light? Looker—No! It's so dark I can't see a thing.—Harvard Lampoon.

Imaginative.

"Remember must have unusual powers of imagination!" "Yes," replied Senator Burleigh. "It was one of the best boys you ever saw in a torch-light procession."—Washington Star.

Dark.

Shipper—Did you see that light? Looker—No! It's so dark I can't see a thing.—Harvard Lampoon.

Imaginative.

"Remember must have unusual powers of imagination!" "Yes," replied Senator Burleigh. "It was one of the best boys you ever saw in a torch-light procession."—Washington Star.

Dark.

Shipper—Did you see that light? Looker—No! It's so dark I can't see a thing.—Harvard Lampoon.

Imaginative.

"Remember must have unusual powers of imagination!" "Yes," replied Senator Burleigh. "It was one of the best boys you ever saw in a torch-light procession."—Washington Star.

Dark.

Shipper—Did you see that light? Looker—No! It's so dark I can't see a thing.—Harvard Lampoon.

To the Citizens of Bow Island

There's only one thing to be said about Coal—you must have it. You're no use for the agent who has to wait weeks—while you are freezing—before he can deliver the goods, when you can get any quantity from 1 ton to 50 tons right here. We have a bin of 50 tons at the mine always ready for shipment; the quality is equal to Tubar Coal and our prices away lower.

BEST SCREENED - $3.50
SECONDS - $2.00
STEAM COAL, Run of Mine - $3.00

We are setting up a yard in town, but in the meantime send your orders and enquiries to

MORGAN Bros., Proprietors, Bow Island
T. ROBERTS, MANAGER.

A MATTER of LIFE or DEATH

DEATH—or at any rate, shattered nerves, and failing health awaits those who doctor themselves with cheap, quack drugs.

LIFE—and restoration to vigor and energy follows the wise principle of dealing with us.

All drugs are prepared by qualified men.

The Bow Island Drug Store.

An Item of Interest

The main thing to consider in purchasing coal is the amount of carbon contained, for that is what gives the heat and the more carbon contained the less amount of clinker and the greater heat given. Our coal contains a higher percentage of carbon than that from the Tubar coal mines.

PRICE AT MINE - $3.00 PER TON.
 50 tons always on hand near Stacey's Lumber Yard.
COAL DELIVERED to any part of Town at $11.00 for TWO TONS.

LONG & CASWELL'S COAL MINE.
 ADDRESS—P.O. BOX 16, BOW ISLAND.

Prosperity.

Messrs. Iversen Ignatius and Pedersen were business visitors in Medicine Hat last week. Messrs. Iversen and Ignatius proved up on their land.

Mrs. Wm. Scott had the misfortune to fall into a cellarway at her home last week, and as a result was considerably bruised.

The annual school-meeting for the Prosperity district will be held at the schoolhouse on January 10th.

A ticket social and concert followed by a dance will be held at the Prosperity schoolhouse on Wednesday, January 8th.

We understand that a dance will be held some time soon at the Prosperity schoolhouse, the proceeds to go to the Bow Island Hospital fund.

Mrs. Emmerston of Barce is visiting at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Scott.

Miss Henderson returned to her school at Glen Banner on New Year's day after a week's visit with her brother.

Eva and Alice Foster returned to their school at Lethbridge this week.

Newdale.

We have winter weather in earnest at present. Last week we had mild climate with high winds until Thursday night, we were treated to a heavy snow with cold wave.

Several through here proved up this last week. No longer "home-steaders" but "farmers".

It is good time this winter to renew the interest in the Farmer's Union in Newdale district. Work is slack, and if the meetings were held at about noon, instead of evenings, all could manage to attend much better. Each one should consider himself a committee of one to get others interested in the U. F. A. for it is for the farmer's own best interests. All pull together if the best results are to be obtained. Plan to have a meeting of the U. F. A. in the near future and discuss next year's interests and plans to the Convention of the United Farmer's of Alberta to be held in Haget Hal, Calgary, January 21, 22 and 23, 1913. We are entitled to a delegation of two or three. It would be profitable to send at least one delegate to go and bring back the cream of such a helpful convention.

The sick in our midst, who were reported sick last week are improving, some slowly, but we can be thankful for that. We hope to be able to report all well next week.

Mrs. Paul Benning was ill a few days of late.

Our faithful mail-carrier makes his two trips regularly. He goes to town Tuesday returns Wednesday, then goes to town again Friday returning Saturday. Several have put up boxes of late. More should avail themselves of this splendid privilege, 83 a year in advance is the small fee charged by the carrier.

Mr. Martin Riste drove to Medicine Hat Thursday returning Sunday. While in the Hat, he saw our U. F. A. secretary, Mr. A. Gutrick. He was seemingly happy and enjoying the city life.

Mr. Will Benning and Mr. John Miller visited Medicine Hat this last week.

Mr. Simms was a business caller in the Hat.

A brother-in-law of Mr. Henry Newcombe with his family has been visiting the Newcombe families through the holidays.

Mr. Fred Blanchette was a business caller in Medicine Hat the first of last week.

Sunnyvale.

The Literary Society held their regular meeting December 10th. No debate took place on account of the absence of one of the captains. The programme consisted of songs, readings, recitations which were very ably rendered. The subject for debate Jan. and will be, "Resolved that bachelors are more contented than married men".

Mr. Chas. Flammie is visiting his brothers George and A. N. Flammie.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Bellamy are spending the winter in Ontario.

Among those who spent Christmas out were—Mr. and Mrs. Harrington and family and Mr. and Mrs. F. Taylor at Mr. D. Peterson's, Mr. A. Caton, Mr. I. Hoffmann and Mrs. Caton at Mr. A. Garrison's, Mr. and Mrs. J. Murphy, Rev. H. Speke and Rev. G. A. Wilken at Mr. J. Rushworth's.

Mr. L. Thomas of Brantford spent a few days with his brother George R. Thomas, while on his way home from Edmonton.

We extend our sincerest sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Hands and Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Hands in their recent bereavement.

The Christmas tree held in the Mission Hall, December 23rd was a decided success. The evergreen tree was gorgeous with tinsel, candles and other ornaments. Everyone enjoyed the recitations by the children which were ably spoken also the songs were excellent, and last but not least the music. At the close of the program Santa appeared and made the children happy with gifts and a treat for all present.

Mr. A. Garrison's gave a surprise party in honor of their guest Mr. A. Caton on Christmas night. A pleasant evening was spent playing cards, dancing and a boxing contest.

A number of young people from this vicinity attended a dance held in Newdale schoolhouse New Year's night. They reported spending an enjoyable evening only, "if that wind hadn't blown, so hard we might not have lost our way".

Mr. Clarence Ambile is on a trip to Iowa and North Dakota.

The debate on Jan. 2nd, "Resolved that bachelors are more contented than bachelors" proved an interesting one. The married men took the affirmative side of the question, the bachelors the negative. The bachelors won by a number of points. The subject for Jan. 9th is, "Resolved that there is more pleasure in pursuit than in possession". After the debate there will be an old-fashioned spelling match.

Mr. D. M. Garrison lost a valuable horse last week.

Quite a number of people are on the sick list, glad to report little from Garrison is better at time of writing.

Mr. I. N. Ambile has nearly completed a fine new residence on the south-east quarter of sixteen.

The interior of the Mission Hall is undergoing decided improvements. A new floor has been put in the vestry.

Warning to Dog Owners.

Notice is hereby given that unless all dog licenses are paid on or before Wednesday, January 15th, dog owners or persons harboring dogs will be summoned to appear before a justice of the peace.

The maximum penalty for failing to comply with the provisions of the Dog By-law is fifty dollars.

Licensed Police Committee, Bow Island, January 10, 1913.

Good Work at Fertile Plains

The work of procuring funds for the establishment of a general hospital at Bow Island goes on apace, and is being taken up more generally throughout the country.

Fertile Plains school district on December 27th was good enough to organize a box social and dance for that evening and about $66 realized, all of which, after a few minor expenses are deducted, will be handed over to the General Hospital.

The district of Prosperity will also hold a similar function in the schoolhouse on Wednesday, January 22nd, which no doubt will as generously supported as the one at Fertile Plains.

Market Prices.

BOW ISLAND, Jan. 10.
No. 1 Northern	.05
2 "	.02
3 "	.07
4 "	.00
5 "	.45
6 "	.28
Feed	.31
No. 1 White Wheat	.54
2 "	.51
3 "	.59
4 "	.43
5 "	.44
6 "	.20
Feed	.21
1 Oats	.18
2 "	.19
3 "	.13
Flax, North-west	.678
" No. 1 Manitoba	.614
" Rejected	.54

PROWSE & LYONS
 Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries, Etc.
 J. B. Lyons. J. H. Prowse
 Bow Island every Thursday afternoon and Friday forenoon.

TABER, - ALTA.

Undertaking and Embalming

The undersigned has taken over the undertaking and embalming business of A. G. Loomis and is prepared to receive and execute promptly all orders entrusted to him.

E. A. NEVERS
 Bow Island Alta.

We wish all readers of the Review and particularly those who are our Customers

A Happy and Prosperous New Year and trust that we shall Receive their patronage

 during 1913.

B. L. JAMIESON - THE JEWELLER
LUDTKE BLOCK

Swennumson and Luckhardt.

MACHINES and HARNESS,

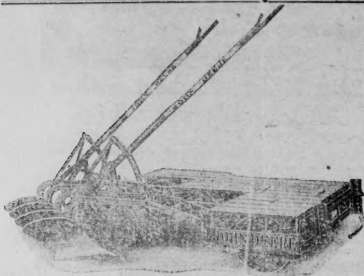

REAL ESTATE,

LOANS AND INSURANCE.

We request Listings for Bow Island Lots and Farm Properties, as we have connections in all the principal towns in Alberta, Eastern Canada, and Dakota.

We hold Agencies for Loan Companies who are willing to loan liberally on Farms in the Bow Island District.

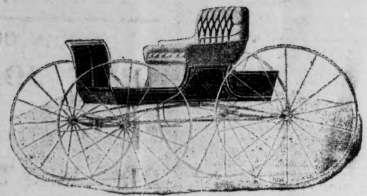

Before taking out a policy for Fire or Life with any other company, see us; we represent the most reliable company handling Insurances and we can therefore offer you the best terms on the soundest security.

John Deere Implements,

Van Brunt Drills,

Brockville Carriages.

ADOLPH SWENNUMSON.

AFFIDAVITS TAKEN.

E. W. LUCKHARDT.

Local and General.

Dr. Paterson returned on Wednesday from his trip east.

Rev. M. L. Wright has been visiting in Lethbridge this week.

Mrs. McEwen arrived last week from Eastern Saskatchewan, was upon a visit to Mrs. E. T. Hamlin.

The Lethbridge-Land Co. has something of importance to tell you in their advertisement on page 1. Look it up.

Mail and Fire Insurance, Farm Loans.—A. Elsworth.

Miss McCloud, sister to Mrs. E. W. Luckhardt, returned on Monday from a trip to Calgary.

D. Needham is spending a week or two in town, previous to undertaking a trip around the world.

Dalmage handles Fire Insurance.

Miss Isabel Whitney returned to college at Calgary on Monday night, and her brother Thompson left for college at Port Hope on Monday.

For a nobly, nifty suit or overcoat, made to fit, see Nevins, the tailor, English, serge and Scotch tweeds. Next door to Dr. Paterson.

Rev. H. M. Henderson of Clermont, formerly of All Saints' Bow Island, arrived in town on Wednesday for the I.O.O.F. Installation. He will remain over Sunday, and will officiate at the evening service upon that day at All Saints'.

See Dalmage for Farm Loans.

The annual meeting of Sunalta School will be held on Saturday, January 11th; that of Concho Bank on Tuesday, January 14th; and Rosemount School on Saturday, January 11th.

B. T. Whitney had a somewhat trying ordeal on Monday in extricating a bunch of nine horses which had fallen through the ice into the river, a little west of his ranch. After some hard work, he got eight of them to shore, but the other he had to leave lying upon some rocks near.

A letter received in town this week conveys the news that J. D. McGrigor, formerly of the North-West Drilling Co., had entered into that delightful state known as matrimonial bliss.

The Ladies' Aid of St. Andrew's Church will meet at the home of Mrs. Mills on Thursday, January 24th. A full attendance of members is requested as the election of officers takes place on that day.

Golden Link (Rebekah) Lodge will initiate several new members on Friday, January 17th, and the installation of new officers will take place upon the evening of the following day, Saturday, January 18th, when the president will visit Bow Island for that purpose. All members are urgently invited to be present.

At a triple installation of Taber, Grass Lake and Bow Island Lodges, A. E. & A. M., at the first-mentioned town, last week the following were installed for Bow Island: W. M., J. W. Reid, S. W. Gies, Bruce, J. W. A. M. Flint, Sec. W. A. Bateman, Treas. J. Shearer, Chaplain, J. W. Hurd, S. D. W. H. Henderson, J. D. B. D. Smith, S. S. J. M. Branton, J. S. R. Robertson, H. E. Beattie.

At a meeting at Taber to-day (Friday) of the delegates representing the Southern Alberta Hockey League, the following were included in the league:

Taber, Lethbridge, Medicine Hat and Bow Island. The latter visits Lethbridge next Wednesday to play the local team there.

DON'T SELL OUT

Until you have made arrangements with the man who will get you the highest prices.

ALL KINDS OF AUCTION AND REAL ESTATE SALES.

Terms Right and Satisfaction Guaranteed.

D. M. GARRISON.

Leaves Dates with Beattie & Branton.

Quarter Section for Sale.

FOR SALE, the north-west quarter of section 10, township 11, range 10, situated three miles and a half west of Windred, all perfectly level land, 118 acres broken, all fenced, shack, new school and water. Will be sold for $24 an acre, $2800 cash, balance easy. For further particulars write Joseph Hiesgen, Bow Island, Alta.

J. W. HOPKINS
Registrar of Births, Marriages and Deaths.
BOW ISLAND — ALBERTA

CHANGE OF OWNERSHIP.

The undersigned take this opportunity of informing the public of Bow Island and surrounding country that they have purchased the sole coal mining rights, with mine, equipment, etc., of Archie Gage, and are now in a position to give good service, good weight and a good article to everyone patronizing the mine.

Coal at mine — $2.75 ton.

Mine situated on east half of section 15-11.

CALLOWAY and MOHRMAN,
Bow Island, Alta.

The Bow Island Review is the best advertising medium between Medicine Hat and Lethbridge.

PRIZE WINNING, PURE BRED

Marquis Seed-Wheat, For Sale.

CLEANED AND SACKED.

See R. S. Beattie for Price.

FREE! FREE!

To every new subscriber of the Bow Island Review living within ranges five to twelve, we will give absolutely free, one year's subscription to "The Canadian Countryman, a high-class periodical, brimful of bright stories, splendid pictures, well-written articles on farming, and topics of national and world-wide interest. It is a 30 page book, published weekly, and it is one which will be welcomed every week.

It will interest the father and mother, sister and brother, as well as the lonely bachelor. It should be in every home in this district, and at the price we are offering The Countryman and The Review the demand should be great.

A sample of the book may be seen at the Review Office.

Present subscribers may take advantage of this offer by paying another year in advance.

This, for us, is a losing proposition, but we are determined to reach a thousand circulation by next March.

IMPORTANT NOTICE—We reserve the right to withdraw this offer any time after Jan. 31, 1913.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH WEST LAND REGULATIONS.

ANY person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, may homestead a quarter section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. The applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-agency for the district. Entry by proxy may be made at any agency, on certain conditions by father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of intending homesteader.

Duties.—Six months' residence upon, and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live on a farm of at least 80 acres solely owned and occupied by him or by his father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister.

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter section alongside his homestead. Price $3.00 per acre.

Duties.—Must reside upon the homestead or pre-emption six months in each of six years from date of homestead entry (including time required on each homestead patent) and cultivate fifty acres extra.

A homesteader who has exhausted his homestead right and cannot obtain a pre-emption may enter for a purchased homestead in certain districts. Duties.—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and erect a house worth $800.00.

W. W. W. CORY,

Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

N.B.—Unauthorized publication of this advertisement will not be paid for.

P.O. Box 71 Phone 22
QUONG SANG

RESTAURANT

Opposite Myrtle Hotel.

Meals at all hours

A ROOM TO RENT.

Delicious Confectionery

Cigars and Tobacco

GOOD BREAKFAST.

15c a Load, 3 for 35c.

Good Laundry in connection.

CHARLEY YIP YEN, Proprietor

Horses for Sale.

A. J. Bergeron announces that he is prepared to buy or sell any number of horses. Intending purchasers or parties desiring to dispose of their stock should see him without delay.—Address A. J. Bergeron, Bow Island.

If you have anything to sell try an ad in the "Review".